

"We TEAch kids of all ages that life is an Airport, "and" they are the Airplanes..."

Cleous "GloWry" Young is an eccentric individual when it comes to conveying a message through the means of imparting wisdom, knowledge, understanding, and general information. He is what you refer to as "The Educer!" For those unfamiliar with this term, it is derived from the etymology of the word education, which is often etymologized from the Latin words Educare or Educo. This means to 'Draw out' or 'Bring out' in layman's terms. Young is a specialist in cultivating activities, presentations, experiments, and dialogues to bring out the best in people.
